Revenue Roadmap

What it takes to reach $100, $500, and $1,000 per month

PREPARED APRIL 2026

WHERE YOU ARE TODAY · 30 DAYS

2,310 unique visitors · 129 Amazon clicks · ~$10–30 est. earned

Estimates based on industry-average affiliate CTR and conversion rates.

Real numbers will vary — but this gives you the targets to aim for.

How affiliate revenue works

Every visitor to your site has a tiny chance of doing something that pays you. The math isn't complicated, but the numbers are unforgiving:

Step	Typical rate	What happens
1. Visitor arrives	100%	From TikTok, Instagram, search, or direct
2. Clicks an affiliate link	2 – 5 %	Most visit and leave; only some click out
3. Completes signup or purchase	1 – 4 %	KYC, deposit, real Amazon order, etc.
4. You get paid	varies	$0.50 (Amazon book) → $200+ (exchange signup)

Revenue per visitor (RPV) — a useful shorthand

Multiply visitors × RPV to estimate monthly revenue. Most affiliate sites land in one of three brackets depending on their content and audience:

Site stage	RPV	What it means
Brand-new site (you, today)	$0.01 – 0.05	Mostly Amazon clicks, no real conversions yet
Mid-tier (3–6 months in)	$0.05 – 0.15	Occasional exchange signup + small recurring
High-performing (12+ months)	$0.20 – 0.50+	Loyal audience, exchange signups, Bitrefill regulars

The asymmetry to understand: 1 person signing up for Binance and trading actively can earn you more than 100 Amazon clicks. Exchange referrals are where the real money lives — most other links just pad your numbers.

TARGET TIER · ENTRY MILESTONE

$100

per month in affiliate revenue

The first real paycheck

At this scale, your traffic is roughly where it is today — but you've started converting. One Binance or Kraken signup that actually trades, a few Amazon book purchases, and a handful of Bitrefill clicks adds up to ~$100/month. This tier is very reachable in the next 60–90 days if you keep posting consistently.

TARGET TIER · STEADY SIDE INCOME

per month in affiliate revenue

Real momentum

By this point, at least one of your videos has gone semi-viral or you've stacked consistent 1K-view performers. Repeat visitors start showing up. Exchange signups from previous months begin generating recurring trading-fee commissions. Realistic timeline: 6–12 months of consistent posting.

TARGET TIER · SERIOUS MONTHLY INCOME

$1,000

A real second income

This is the level where you've built a recognizable brand. Multiple viral hits, an engaged community, and monthly recurring commissions from active exchange users. People search for your handle directly. Realistic timeline: 12–24 months from today, with consistent output and at least one breakout moment.

daily-ish posting cadence

What that looks like on social

Channel	Monthly views needed	Engaged followers (rough)

Instagram	30,000 – 60,000	3,000 – 5,000

What actually moves the needle

Where your income will probably come from

Source	Share of revenue	Why it matters
Exchange signups (Binance / Kraken / Nexo)	60 – 75 %	Highest payout per conversion. 30+ day cookies. Recurring commission on trading fees.
Bitrefill (gift cards, eSIMs, refills)	10 – 15 %	Lifetime 0.25% — small but recurring once users stick
Amazon (books, gifts, miners)	5 – 10 %	High click volume, low payout, 24-hour cookie
BitcoinMerch (home miners, merch)	5 – 10 %	Higher per-sale revenue, gift-driven seasonal spikes
Other (Kast, Xapo, Roxom, Udemy)	0 – 5 %	Long-tail; most pay only on real signups

The five things that compound

1. Post consistently

3–5 short-form videos per week. Even 100 views per video adds up over a year.

2. Optimize for one platform first

TikTok is doing better than Instagram for you — double down there before diversifying.

3. Make "Take the Quiz" your CTA

Every video should mention bitcoinbrainfood.com → quiz. The quiz routes to affiliate links.

4. Track which videos drove signups

Once an exchange signup comes in, look at what you posted that week and make more of it.

5. Patience with exchange referrals

30–90 day delay between signup and first commission. Don't quit at month 3.

Important caveat. These numbers are rough industry averages. Your actual results depend heavily on your niche credibility, video quality, which 1–2 affiliate programs send their best traffic, and a fair amount of luck with viral content. Treat the tiers as order-of-magnitude targets, not promises.
